Kopf and Crane Were Found Wanting by Worst Team in Baseball.

Philadelphia, March 9.-Connie Mack, for the past two years, is supposed to have had the worst ball teams that ever took the field in a major league, and yet— and this looks like one of the upsets of and this looks like one of the upsets of basebali—two players who were not good enough for the worst team in the majors are expected to be high-class performers this season with other major league clubs. Reference is made to Billy Kopf (Brady), who will be with Cincinnati, and Sam Crane, who will be with Washington.

Kopf and Crane are shortstops. From 1910 until last season Manager Mack experimental with account in the perimented with several shortstops in the hope that one of them would fill the bill in case anything happened to Jack Barry. Among these players were Claude Derrick, Billy Orr, Sam Crane and Billy Kopf. None of them could fill the bill. Three of them were sent to the Baltimore club, of the International League. and the other, Orr, to the Sacramento club. Orr and Derrick are still playing in the minor leagues, but Crane and Kopf have fought their way out of the trenches

Kopf is destined to fill that shortstop place so beautifully that the Cincinnati fans will not miss Herzog. Cincinnati fans will not miss Herzog. Cincinnati fans will not miss Herzog. During the twelve games that Kopf played for us last fail I was on second and working with him. That little set of games was all I needed to convince me that we had at last found Herzog's successor. Kopf was digging them up to the right and left and he was coming over to the base to do teamplays with me just as though he had been there for seasons.
